

A VISIT TO THE LENSIC

the Lensic
theater for performing arts

We are going to a theater called the Lensic to see a performance!

About the Lensic

The Lensic is in downtown Santa Fe.

It was built in 1931,
which is over 90 years ago.

It was updated in 2001,
so the seats and equipment
are not that old.

Getting There!

To go to the Lensic with our school, we might take a bus or maybe we will walk.

If we go with our family, we might drive and park in the garage or on the street.

Going Inside

We will go through the front doors and into the Lensic lobby.

In the lobby, we will see people talking to their friends and waiting to go into the theater.

It can be noisy.

Where to Go?

We will meet a person called an Ambassador who tell us where to go.

In other theaters, this person might be called an usher. They are here to help!

We might go straight into the theater or we might go up the stairs to sit in the balcony.

Before the Show

We will sit down in our seats a few minutes before showtime.

We can get comfortable, talk to our friends, and wait for the show to begin!

Everyone else will sit down, too.

When the lights in the room start to dim, that means the show is about to start.

During the Show

Once the show starts, everyone in the audience will watch the performers on the stage.

We will try to be as quiet as possible, so the people around us can enjoy the performance, too. If the show is funny, we can laugh.

Sometimes we will clap during the show.

End of Show

At the end of the show, the performers often bow.

We can show our appreciation by clapping or waving our hands. Other people will clap and may stand up. This happens for a short time.

The lights will come back on.

Going Home

After the show, our school will be dismissed one at a time. We will stand up and walk out the way we came in.

We can talk about what we liked most about the show or how it made us feel.

When we leave, we can look for stormy! He is on the top of the Lensic building and on the Lensic's logo.
